LYNCH FOR CLEAN SPORT.

President of National League Will No. Stand for Rowdylsm.

New York, June 11.—President Lynch, of the National League, intends to wage a vigorous warfare on players who are guilty of using bad language on the field.

who are guilty of using bad language on the field.

"Most of the men I have suspended this year," said President Lynch today, "have been disciplined, not for arguing with the umpires, but for cursing at them. Had some of the remarks of the players to the referees been made in the South or West great trouble would have ensued.

"I intend to break up this habit of having players call the arbitrators bad names, and I will go to the limit to discipline the next man who offends. I will also not stand for umpires talking back to spectators, or taking it upon themselves to criticle newspaper men. My attention has been called to the fact that last Thursday, on the Polo Grounds here. Umpire Johnstone and Umpire Moran stood in front of the press box and made remarks about the baseball writers. For its breach of the rightying rules Johnstone has been fined $25 and Moran $15."

WATER CARNIVAL	PLANNED.

Movement Started in Norfolk for Unique Celebration.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Norfolk, Va., June 11.—Plans are on foot for a great water carnival in Norfolk, to be held on the beautiful stretch of water known as the Eastern Branch of the Elizabeth River. Those interested and at the head of this movement are: Albert Roper, Berry Dodson, C. Elmo Billups and others.
The tentative plans call for day and night celebrations, with the water course brilliantly illuminated, with amusements and attractions of various kinds afloat, and with marine parades and races to add to the interest. The idea is to hold the carnival late in July and to invite the officers of the battleships here to participate in the events.

It is pointed out that one of the battleships here to participate in the events.

It is pointed out that one of the prettiest scenes in all the world is a beautiful water front illuminated at night, with many decorated crafts. By the offering of prizes for these illuminations and decorations the promoters are confident that many boat owners will participate.

they responded right manfully. The Lynchburgers were somewhat handicapped by the absence of Dick Smith, who was called home yesterday, and there was some change about on the team. Woolums was put in Smith's place on third base, Levy was pulled in from the field to play first base, and Griffin earned his salary by playing right field. Incidentally, Griffin made one rather fine catch, when a must might have meant tears for him. The absence of Smith, with his batting, eye, to Natural Bridge and Luray Caverns

right field. Incidentally, Grimn male one rather fine catch, when a must might have meant tears for him. The absence of Smith, with his batting eye, however, worked against the Hill Climbers, and there was an absence of hits at those times when one might have done business.

Highle Breezes Home.

Then he dropped his hackles for a half a second and Wallace drew a base on balls. Titman sent Wallace to second on a scratch, but when Bigble scratched after him Wallace was chucked out at the plate. Bigble went to second on the throw, and when Irvine slammed one out into deep centre field for a safety Bigble breezed home with time to spare.

Then it was nip and tuck. Colts and Hill Climbers strained blood vessels to do something, and nothing would be done. The country became hoarse calling on the Colts to come and save the day, and the Colts would expire in their patriolic duty—that is, until the thirteenth rolled around.

In the thirteenth the sun found a quiet resting spot in Levy's eyes and occupied Levy's attention so that he didn't see the throw of Landgraff's seratch, and Landy was safe. Balver, of course, sacrificed him to second, and Shaw got to the bag on Sharp's serror. Then came Wallace with a mighty clput that would, have scored an army if there had been the sightest necessity, and the game was trussed up and delivered to T. Messitt and his husky band. Shaw could have come in and Wallace might have if he had wanted to, but only one run could count and that was Landgraff's. The score:
